Re:

Invitation to Attend the Sixth Annual Hackaday Superconference (November 4, 5, and 6, 2022)

Dear [Full Name],

On behalf of Hackaday, a subsidiary of Supplyframe, Inc., we would like to officially invite you to attend and participate in the Sixth Annual Hackaday Superconference from November 4th-6th, 2022. As a valued contributor, you are an integral part of this focused conference around designing hardware. The conference will be held at the Supplyframe DesignLab, 30 East Del Mar Boulevard, Pasadena, California 91105 USA.

The purpose of the Hackaday Superconference is to bring together an international group of electronics and hardware experts and devotees to share and collaborate their knowledge with others in the field. Topics include open-source hardware, CNC modeling and fabrication, and robotics development. In addition to these subjects, there will be hands-on workshops that all participants are encouraged to attend.

Should you require more information about the conference, please visit our website at www.hackaday.io/superconference. You may also contact me at +1 (626) 793-7732 or superconference@hackaday.com. Thank you, and we look forward to seeing you in November.

Regards,
