

Third prototype

We have decided to change a lil our project because he won't be able to brake properly, so our initial project isn't viable. After analyzing this issue, we concluded that the proposed solution wasn't sufficient to ensure the desired safety and efficiency. Therefore, we decided to change our approach and design an additional support. This support will improve stability, ensuring better control and safety for the bike.

